

Strategy & Tactics Quarterly

Presents

DREADNOUGHT: REVOLUTION IN NAVAL WARFARE

Few weapons have come and gone so precipitously as the modern battleship. HMS Dreadnought, launched in 1906, was on paper only an evolutionary change from its predecessors, but its combination of armor, speed, and above all big guns, instantly made every other battleship obsolete. Though only a single major dreadnought battle was ever fought, at Jutland in 1916, the race continued after the Great War. The sheer expense drove the leading naval powers to the conference table to limit the size of ships and fleets, providing an opening for pariah nations, the soon-to-be Axis, to leap ahead in battleship design, only to be overtaken by greater Allied shipbuilding capacity and the maturation of the aircraft carrier. Carl O. Schuster presents the story of the majestic ships that ruled the world's waves for a generation.

On Sale Winter 2020!

Target Market

- Naval history buffs

Up-Sells & Cross-Sells

- Coronel & the Falkland Islands (DG Folio Game)
- River Plate & Denmark Strait (DG Folio Game)
- Nine Navies War (DG Box Game)
- Cruise of the Graf Spee (WW #66)

Selling Points

- Same great content as S&T, but more specialized and specific about a single subject.
- 116 pages
- Over 2 dozen maps & diagrams

Stock no

- STQ12

MSRP

- $15.99

Place your order today while supplies last!