

Strategy & Tactics®

#282: WAR of the PACIFIC

War of the Pacific, Chile vs. Perú & Bolivia, 1879-1883 is a two-player, low-complexity simulation of one of the most decisive wars waged in South America during the 19th century. This game simulates the conventional aspects of the war, from the outbreak to January 1881 when the Chileans captured the Peruvian capital of Lima, and the guerilla war that followed, to the standoff that ensued to 1883.

The game consists of twelve game turns, each game turn representing approximately two months of real time. Each hexagon on the map represents approximately 31 miles (50 kilometers) from side to opposite side, and individual units represent battalions and regiments; naval chits generally represent individual ships.

Target Market

- 19th Century history buffs

Up-Sells & Cross-Sells

- Pedregal (DG Folio Series)
- Nine Navies War (DG)
- Eagle Day (DG Mini Series)
- Antietam Campaign (DG)
- The Triple Alliance War (S&T #245)

Selling Points

- Easy to play system
- Great Value (boxed version would be $50 or more)

Stock no

- ST282

MSRP

- $29.99

UPC Code

- 07447003005809

Contents

- One 22 x 34 inch map
- 280 counters
- Magazine with historical background

Place your order today while supplies last!

